

Operationalizing Health Equity: Power Map Activity

1. Consider an issue you are working to change – for example a policy change that could impact health disparities. What is the issue? [Type or write a brief statement/description here.]
2. Brainstorm five groups connected with this issue. One group should be the core constituency or group whose health and well-being would be most impacted by the change you are working to achieve.

Groups connected with this issue	Type or write name of group below
Group 1: Core group
Group 2
Group 3
Group 4
Group 5

3. Write the number of each group on the map in the appropriate location. Consider these two questions to help you decide where to place them.
 - What level of influence do each of these groups have to shape the narrative, set agendas or influence decision making related to this issue?
 - What level of interest and investment do each of these groups have to make the change?

Operationalizing Health Equity: Power Map Activity

Continued:

4. Based on this distribution of power, how might you approach those who have influence over the change you want to see? [Write or type ideas, below.]

5. How might your strategy or approach to this issue help increase the power of the core constituency (Group 1)? [Write or type ideas, below.]